And another, uh, thing...

-This is radio! You don’t get half-minute between subject and verb!

-Caller had a stroke. She told me.

-Well give her the name of a clinic!

-We could get sued for not hearing her out.

-Look! People who call here are spewing right-wing maniacal crap! We lose that necessary tone with stop-start chicks. Besides she’s probably a fuckin liberal craving the Socialized Medicine tit.
